OLDFIELD SAYS NO OPEN RACES

Barney Will Confine Himself to Speed Trials in Future.

SPORT IS TOO DANGEROUS

RECENT ACCIDENTS CAUSE MAN-UFACTURERS TO BE CAREFUL.

Cleveland, Ohio, Aug. 26 .- As a re sult of a conference between the officials of the company employing him and Barney Oldfield today, it was announced that in future Oldfield would not compete with his green dragon in track races other than those having just two contestants and are started from opposite sides of the track. This decision on the part of the company which has been the heaviest loser in the wrecking of track machines, and Oldfield, who has been through the fence six times, was prompted by a desire to prevent future accidents caused by drivers being blinded by dust clouds. Barney Oldfield said tonight:
"I talked with the officials of the Peerless company today, and we decided to take the initiative in suppressing the bullion of contractions.

ing the killing of spectators and driv-ers in automobile racing. Three of my most serious accidents occurred be-cause of dusty tracks, and Webb Jay's Buffalo accident was caused by not being able to see the fence. Ae the owners of the horse tracks will not permit their courses to be oiled, and as water cannot be used with practicabil-ity, there is but one thing left, that is to start contestants from opposite sides of the track. I shall only drive in com-petition when forced to do so, and will give speed exhibitions alone, except at a few meets.

Other makers of automobiles and drivers of the speed cars have expressed themselves as favoring the deision of the Peerless company and

Pfeister Goes to Chicago.

Jack Pfeister, remembered here as Jack Pfeister, remembered here as a pitcher for Spokane, is to have another trial in the big league. The Chicago National Club has purchased his release from Omaha, where he has been pitching good ball. Jack joined the Pittsburg team two years ago along with Joe Marshall, big Thompson and Carisch. The last named is the only one who held his job.

Champions and Vincent-Notts Line up at Walker's Field This Afternoon With Strong Teams.

(Special to The Herald.) . Eureka, Utah, Aug. 26.—The Eureka champion baseball team will make its first appearance for this season in Salt Lake City tomorrow, the Vincent-Nott team being its opponent. This will be the second game in the championship series, the Miners having whipped the Shoemakers last Sunday by the score of II to 8. The Eurekas never were in better shape than now to take part in the final struggle for the championship, and Eureka fans are confident that the championship is coming back to the Tintic metropolis. Park City did not find the Eureka team so easy as they would try to make people believe. Tintic as yet stands ready to back up its bunch with good money, and lots of it. Visiting teams have always found that Eureka is always on the spot with the "dough." The present line-up of the Blue Rocks includes eight of last year's team, over which Manager Shontz is greatly elated. He stated last night that he expected his men would hand the Parkites as large a bunch as they ever received from Eureka upon the occasion of their visit on Sept. 3 and 4 to Eureka. It is expected that these two days will be record breakers in the way of attendance, as on the 4th—Labor day—the Miners' union is going to have a rousing celebration. The strain is too great; yet, the bis hearted athlete will not be denied. Shortly after 1 o'cleck Saturday morning Rube thumped on the door between the two rooms. Mr. Mack wanted to know the answer.

"Get up, quick, Connie," came the whisper through the keyhole. "I've got something good for you, and it might spoil. Hurry up."

Crawling out of bed, Mr. Mack clung to the doorknob and gasped.

"Guess what I've for you." said Rube, holding one hand behind him. But at the first whiff Connie had passed beyond the guessing stage. He could only stand and take what was coming to him. So with a smile of tender affection, Rube dragged from under his coat a limburger cheese sandwich, with onions on it—old, stale barroom onlons.

ONE ON JOHN J. M'CLOSKEY WHEN HE WAS PLAYING BALL IN TEXAS

They tell a good and true story on John J. McCloskey and Bill Joyce, the well known old-time St. Louis ball player, McCloskey was managing owner of the Houston, Tex., club in 1888. Joyce was playing third base and captaining the team. In addition to managing and owning the team McCloskey played right field. He was not a good fielder. One day he made several errors. The team which had won twelve straight games looked like a loser.

"Hold on," said Joyce—the employe of McCloskey—to the pitcher. Then he turned and waved his hand to McCloskey and said:

"Who am I?"

"McCloskey, owner and manager of the team, a good fellow, but a bum fielder. To the bench. Don't delay the game. The people are getting nervous. Go on, Fiaherty."

"You go, Flaherty," said McCloskey, "and I'll stop your pay."

"All right, Mac," said Joyce. "But look here, if Flaherty does not go to the field I don't play third base. See?"

McCloskey went to the bench. Flaherty went to the field. Joyce played third. Houston won the game.

McCloskey could better afford to endure the ignominy of being benched by his subordinate than he could afford to
